

LifeWave Muscle Patch

Many of you have heard the rumors and stories. Now be a part of history by being one of the first to experience the awesome power of the revolutionary LifeWave Muscle Patch!

The now famous “muscle patch” was research tested to produce massive gains in raw muscle. Unlike anabolic steroids, the “muscle patch” is designed to inhibit the regulatory mechanisms that control just how much muscle you can build. By turning off this regulatory mechanism the body can stay in a state of anabolic metabolism (growth) for longer periods of time. This means being able to gain muscle quickly without the side effects of steroids!

Many users tested saw 8 to 12 pounds of lean muscle gain in only 3 weeks! This is a limited one time offer to get your hands on this pre-production run. When supplies run out this offer will be discontinued. Each package contains enough patches for 4 weeks of muscle gain.

- Retail Price-----$399

NOTE: We do not expect this inventory to last long and after it's sold we will discontinue this product offer.

In addition, many of you have asked us why this product is priced the way that it is. As you know LifeWave is constantly engaged in new clinical research, and we have been working with professional athletes for the past few months regarding the muscle patch. While we are unable to produce the muscle patch in large volume, we did want to be able to offer a limited supply to our members, as we know many of you would like to have an “edge” when it comes to fulfilling your New Year’s resolutions.

Our intent is not to launch the muscle patch as a formal product, but rather to give those who have wanted to try this product that chance. Because the muscle patch is extremely difficult and time consuming to manufacture (the original batches were taking up to 30 minutes per patch!), the cost of this product at this point is higher than that of our other products. We anticipate that, should we officially launch this product in the future, the costs will be more in line with our other products.

*Product is available on a first-come first-served basis.
All product will ship the early part of January.
